2. Business research containing the business details and evidence that it has no official website.

JoshWorks is a DTI-accredited business based in Iloilo. It already has social media accounts, namely, JoshWorks on Instagram and Facebook. This business is focused on accepting graphic design commissions to tailor clients' vision. Despite growing social media presence, JoshWorks still does not have an existing official website (According to Joshua David Ranin – Founder of JoshWorks) they accept commissions through their social media pages via private message.

3. Short explanation answering the questions below.

Short Explanation Questions:

1. Why did you choose this business?

We chose this business in order to support local graphic designers who are still growing. We believe that creating this website will not only improve our skills in HTML and CSS, but it can also give Joshworks an idea of scaling their business through a website. We believe that graphic design businesses also need official websites, just like other businesses such as cafes and delivery companies. By creating a website, they can freely express their designs without limitations, unlike on social media.

2. Who is the target audience of the website?

The target audience of this website would be mostly people with businesses since the clients of JoshWorks are usually business owners who seek to improve their presence by creating visually pleasing and intriguing designs. Some other audience will also include small organizations, students, and small business owners.

3. What design choices did you make?

We chose a website design that is professional-looking but also hint of twists of playfulness which aligns with the branding of JoshWorks itself. We believe that by sticking to JoshWorks branding, we can create a strong personality that will easily be recognized by the people

4. What problems does your website solve for the business?

The solutions we will be providing by creating this websites is to make the business more flexible and scalable. Websites are flexible since you can freely do whatever you want with the right resources, which is a break through from social media limitations. It also makes the business scalable since having a website means more ways of connecting with people.

5. What part of the website are you most proud of?

We are most proud of learning new things. Even though we ran into issues with problems that would be easy if we were using design software, coding is very different from that, and we learned a lot from the process. The most important thing is that we learned something new

6. What part did you find most difficult?

The most difficult part was to organize and structure html and css elements.
